Local Girl At Assembly

On April 6 and 7th, I had the great honor bestowed upon me by the Senior Tri-Hi-Y Club of Appomattox High School to attend the Virginia District Y. M. C. A. Model General Assembly held in Richmond, Virginia. I was accompanied by the Senior Tri-Hi-Y sponsors, Mrs. Louise Brown, and Miss Shirley Harris, president of the Junior Tri-Hi-Y Club, who attended as a page. The Y. M. C. A. organization sponsors the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs.

The Virginia District Model General Assembly is a replica of the Virginia General Assembly but is operated entirely by high school students. Youth Assembly officials are elected, and preside according to the General Assembly rules. Bills are drafted in local clubs and sent to the Virginia District Y. M. C. A. where they are made into billbooks, brought to the capital where they are read, studied by committees, debated and disposed of, so that when a person has participated in the Virginia District Model General Assembly, he or she has had an actual experience in the way the laws of Virginia are made. This is the experience I had.

The Model General Assembly convened at 9:00 A. M. on Friday, April 6. I was assigned to seat No. 16 in the House of Delegates; and I was also appointed as secretary of the House General Laws Committee.

The House was called to order by the clerk of the House at10:30 A. M. Friday. There was a prayer by the chaplain after which a House Joint Resolution was passed for Joint Assembly of the Senate and House at 10:45 A. M. During this Joint Assembly in the House of Delegates, the following took place:

1. Swearing in of youth officers and legislators by Hon. Jefferson F. Waltz, of Onley, Va., Judge of the 31st Judicial Circuit.

2. Talk by William P. Swartz, Jr., Roanoke chairman of the Virginia District Y. M. C. A., on "The Y. M. C. A. Model Legislature."

3. Message from the Governor, Hon. John S. Battle, Governor of Virginia.

4. Inaugural address by Youth Governor, James Lee Warren, of Marion.

At 11:45, the Joint Adjourned, and the House was called to order by the Speaker of the House, Thomas Mullins, from Highland Springs.

During the lunch hour we had committee meetings.

At 2:30, the House convened and action began on bills passed by the committees. The House adjourned at 5:30. At 6 o'clock there was a banquet at Hotel Richmond.

Saturday went much the same way as Friday and was adjourned sine die at 3 P. M.

Many bills concerning the welfare of the state were passed by the Model Ammesbnly and signed by the Youth Governor. One bill would limit the number of elementary and secondary school pupils who may ride in a school bus in the state of Virginia. Favoring this bill, I obtained the floor long enough to say a few words for it.

In all, 22 bills were passed.

CULTIVATION ADVISED

BERRY PLANTINGS

Thorough cultivation in strawberry, raspberry, blackberry, and dewberry plantings is advised by Bruce Arorian, associate horticulturist at V. P. I.

He says strawberries cannot compete with weeds, and the new runner plants will have difficulty in getting a foothold if the soil is crusted.

Frequent cultivation conserves moisture and at the same time destroys weeds.

To The Voters of Appomattox: Cultivation next to plants should be shallow to avoid exposure and injury to roots. Cultivate from one to four inches for other berries.

Use of Columbium

John Winthrop, Jr., who supervised the construction of America's first successful blast furnace at Saugus, Massachusetts, in 1643, found an unidentified rock fragment near his home. About 150 years later, an English chemist, Gustav Hiskett, saw this fragment in the British museum, analyzed it, and thus discovered the element columbium. Today, this element is playing an increasingly important role in the manufacture of stainless steel, heat resistant steels for such uses as jet aircraft engines.

Columbium is one of the most rare of elements to find use in the steel industry. It was used commercially as an alloy in the 1930's, although experimental work had been done with it as early as 1920. Last year 1,000 pounds of columbium metal was consumed in the manufacture of steel.

Fur Coated Plants Studied By Smithsonian Botanists

A group of "fur-coated" plants is being studied by Smithsonian institution botanists. These plants have a dense, thickly matted wool-like covering of long, tangled hairs on their leaves and inflorescences. In their native habitat—the northern Andes—they are known as "frailejones," because of the resemblance of their covering to the cloaks worn by some orders of priests.

The frailejones belong to the botanical genus Espeletia, a member of the daisy family. More than 60 species are known, according to the latest tabulation of Dr. Alberi C. Smith, of the Smithsonian staff, who has specialized in them.

These strange plants range in the Andes from the State of Miranda in Venzuela westward and southward into the northern part of Ecuador. In altitude they occur from an elevation of about 8,000 feet upward to more than 2½ miles, only one species being found as low as 5,000 feet. Different species are found on each complex of paramos, as the extensive areas of alpine meadows above timber line are called in the Andes. Some of the habitats are quite cold, but, says Dr. Smith, the strange "fur coats" can hardly be considered an adaptation to cold. Many other plants of colder climates do not have such an adaptation.

The espeletias often grow very densely, in some places constituting the predominant feature of the vegetation. Some are simple-stemmed shrubs, twice as high as a man, with trunks a foot in diameter, while others are small herbs. Many have vivid yellow flower heads an inch or more in diameter.

Some Things You Should K

Mutual Insurance started doing business in this country in 1752.

Mutual Insurance saves you money.

WHY?

When you become a policyholder you are a shareholder and a part of the earnings of the company are returned to you every year as a dividend.

Are Mutual Companies Safe?

Before they can operate in Virginia they must deposit cash with the Insurance Department to guarantee fulfilling their contracts.

Are Mutual policies Assessable?

All companies I represent are non -assessable companies and it is so stated on each policy. Much property in this county is under insured or not insured at all.

I am happy to offer you Mutual Insurance that has been saving money for policy holders for years.

We write automobile. collision and liability, fire and windstorm in several strong companies and Life Insurance in New England Mutual.

Come in and discuss your insurance needs.

Yours sincerely,

U.S. Still Leads World In Production of Matches

It's pretty difficult to get something for nothing these days, but there's one item left that is used by the average person 14 times a day, and two out of five times he doesn't have to pay. That little item is the match.

The manufacture of matches is a $25 million-a-year industry in the United States. Each year, more than 500 billion matches are produced, and of 200 billion book matches made in the United States every year, about 196 billion are given away with the sale of cigars, cigarettes, and tobacco.

Sweden had us topped for many years in the production of matches. The Swedish Match Company, formed in 1913 by Ivar Krueger, had match factories in 43 countries of the world and manufactured most of the world's matches. Krueger is said to have invented the common superstition that "three on a match" is unlucky, in order to sell more matches. His match empire lasted until 1932, when it was discovered he'd been using the company's capital for his own speculations.

Sweden now ranks fourth down the line led by the United States; Great Britain ranks second and the Soviet Union third.

Spices in History

There are many references to spices and herbs in the pages of history. They play important parts in the development of our civilization. The ancients attributed strange powers and accomplishments to spices. Basil, for example, is venerated by the Hindu's who plant it outside their temples and homes to insure happiness. The famed laurel wreaths which crowned Greek heroes of war and sport are the same bay leaves we use today in our cooking.

COLD STORAGE HOLDINGS OF DAIRY PRODUCTS DECLINE

Cold storage holdings of most dairy products decreased during March, says Ben F. Morgan, Jr., dairy marketing specialist at V. P. I.

The amount of butter in cold storage was around 60 per cent below March last year. The amount of cheese was about 10 per cent lower, while holdings of evaporated and condensed milk showed a small increase. Butter moved out of storage in March at the fastest rate for the month since 1934.

As compared with a year ago, butter production is down 7 per cent. This is largely the result of more milk going to the fluid market, Morgan says.
